

The illustration shows a man with long brown hair, wearing a light blue button-down shirt and blue jeans, sitting on the back of a brown camel. The camel is facing left and has a green halter with a silver bell. They are in an outdoor setting with a building in the background that has two large, dark, conical domes and white walls with red horizontal stripes. The sky is blue with some light clouds. The overall style is that of a watercolor or soft oil painting.
