

The illustration depicts a young girl with curly hair, wearing a light blue nightgown, sitting on a wooden chair and looking out a window. She is barefoot. Outside the window, a fairy with large, translucent wings and a red dress is flying. The scene is set at night, with a warm light source, possibly a moon or a lamp, creating a soft glow. The background is a deep blue and purple, suggesting a night sky. The overall style is painterly and whimsical.
