

The book cover features a stylized illustration of a room with a large arched window. The window looks out onto a landscape with two bare trees and a body of water. Several pieces of paper with cutouts of various symbols (a bird, a factory, a dome, the Statue of Liberty, and a classical building) are shown flying through the air. In the foreground, there is a red wooden chair and a table. The background wall has a repeating floral pattern.

Mascha Kaléko
In meinen
Träumen läutet
es Sturm

dtv